

ABSTRACT

An isolated polypeptide comprising an amino acid sequence having at least 80% sequence identity to the sequence SEQ ID NO:1, polynucleotides encoding these peptides, and antibodies to the polypeptides are useful in treating metabolic disorders or disorders associated with changes in adipose tissue physiological function or mass.